

My Concerns

- “People are getting more concerned about urban problems”

In Beijing, understanding the impact of air pollution is crucial

In Paris, people are more concerned about historical heritages' preservation

In New York, people is worried about getting uber in raining days

Nowadays, we also have 311, which we can express our concerns about urban issues, but they can not be relected by real-time, and take time to proceed the information

My diagnosis

Ask questions to diagnose problems

Provide checkboxes
to diagnose problems related to locations

- Asking for all the people's suggestions take processing time and decrease the efficiency
- Not all the suggestions provided by the community co-designers can be addressed

- Can ask the things that are able to be addressed and fixed
- A more user-friendly way for designers to collect collective information

My Engagement

- My project will provide a efficient way for community to gather the information that people are concerned about related to locations

My Medium

- “An interactive map application that can be displayed on website which requires participants' engagement”
